

NEVER place a trade that you are not IMMEDIATELY able to BACKUP.

As the above chart shows, in order to recoup, double and triple downs had to be placed WITHOUT ANY ADDITIONAL WINDOWS OF OPPORTUNITY.

The window of opportunity to recoup on a bounce may only be minutes, and then the window of opportunity may be lost after that.

NEVER go into a trade without the funds to back it up for the day and the immediate moment.

STATISTICAL PROBABILITY:

Assuming all stocks have at least 1 million volume in the $2 to $10 range:

- -100% plus range stock WILL LIKELY eventually go down
- -50% range stock will either go up or down but may eventually bounce
- -20% range stock may either stay down or go up

50% range stock is likely to zigzag back and forth the most to give the most options including a double down on a MANAGEABLE BOUNCE.
